Congratulations! You've just taken your first step towards your dream of a green enterprise. Who knows, you could very well be the next Anita Roddick!

No experience? No problem

But you need:

- Passion and imagination
- Flair for entrepreneurship/retail sales
- Strong drive to take up challenges
- Deep sense of responsibility to see through the entire project
- Practicality in dealing with real business issues

What happens?

- 1 Start off with our brand and sales training.
- 2 This gives you an important foundation in product sales and the power of branding.
- 3 Identify the event or road show in which you wish to participate.
- 4 Present your proposal which must cover how you deal with practical issues, e.g. manpower, cash operations.
- 5 Put in your start up capital: from $60 plus rental fee for the space.
- 6 Run the show!

Your next step

What Hatche participant

Siti Aida says

"Hatche was a great experience! Not just in sales but also in handling an actual retail business. In 3 days, I made close to $400! I built the confidence to interact with strangers. That was totally empowering. I definitely want to do it again."
